

$7,510 To Be Given Away In Prizes

WHAT IS "LOVE"?

Have You Ever Experienced That Peculiar Sensation About the Heart?

Have you ever been in love? Has that "burning passion" ever entered the innermost recesses of your breast and caused you to wonder why you unconsciously hum or whistle "Love Me and the World is Mine"? Has your heart ever beat with rapture at the mere mention of "his" or "her" name? That's IT! That's "LOVE!"

Now, tell us, in as few words as possible, just how you would describe that delightfully peculiar feeling.

We offer $7,510 in prizes to those submitting the best ORIGINAL definitions of "LOVE." No encyclopedia or dictionary definitions will be considered. The contest will close Tuesday, May 25th, 1909; and all replies must be sent in by 6 o'clock p. m. on that day and date.

A Few Minutes of Your Time May Win a Most Substantial Prize

To the person giving the BEST DEFINITION, we will give, ABSOLUTELY FREE,

CAN YOU DEFINE IT?

Single and Married Folks, Old Maids and Bachelors, Try to Win a Prize

Just a little fun, pastime and amusement—and, perhaps, a valuable prize! A charming young lady in Ginter Park says love is a "psychological condition, or state of mind which goes where it is sent, or attracted, regardless of personality, beauty, station, object, condition, wealth or poverty." Now, tell us what YOU think it is.

We want to hear from single and married folks and from the old maids and bachelors, too—THEY ought to know something about it.

Don't hesitate! Don't put it off! Get busy! Put on your thinking cap and act promptly! Look over the list of prizes mentioned below and see whether the reward isn't worth the effort!

This is a Bona Fide Contest, Backed by Concerns Capitalized at $1,500,000

MISSIONARY SAW ARMENIAN RIOTS

Stephen R. Trowbridge Writes an Account for the Mission Board.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 1.—Stephen R. Trowbridge, a missionary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, was the only American or European to witness in Adana the death of D. M. Rogers and Henry Maurer, fellow-missionaries at Adana. He has supplied an account of the occurrence, dated Adana, April 24, to representatives of the Grand Vizier, and has written it out also for the mission board at home.

Mr. Trowbridge says: "Firing and fighting began April 14 between Moslems and Armenians, which resulted in a number of casualties on both sides. By nightfall it was clear that incendiaries were at work, for several districts of the city were covered by clouds of smoke which rolled out far into the country, where vineyards and country houses also were burning. All night long the reports of firearms rang out from all sides.

"The roofs and parapets of houses, minarets, windows with shutters, and other ambuscades were used. The most persistent and dangerous fusillade came from one of the minarets on the border of the Armenian quarter."

Moslems Loot Houses. Moslem pillagers arrived in a desperate mood were looting houses opposite burning buildings, he said. He told of the efforts made by himself and others to protect the girls' school and of the failure of the authorities to act.

He added: "When I first climbed to the roof near the flames armed Moslems appeared on three sides within close range. When they understood that I was not firing on them, but had come to work against the flames, they lowered their rifles and assured me with many pledges that I might go on unmolested."

"Then three Turks appeared at the windows of a house just across the street, and after assuring me of my safety, they dropped back again to their work of plunder. Back of that house in a well protected position was a turbaned Moslem covering these looters with his rifle and firing frequently to protect them. Two other Moslems appeared suddenly on my left, but perceiving my purpose they bade me feel no concern."

Begged Armenians to Help. Continuing, Mr. Trowbridge said: "It seemed that we must have help."

"We repeatedly begged some Armenian young men, who were lurking around the street corners shielded from the Moslem fire, to put away their arms and come and save the school building."

"Real danger that pressed upon our minds was the perilous situation in which our Armenian friends, the hundreds of Christian refugees and the eighty school girls would find themselves in case the building burned."

In every direction there was rioting and shooting. There was no refuge except possibly in the Protestant Church some distance away, and even this was threatened from three sides by the conflagration.

GENERAL ASSASSINATION

Attacks on Armenians Were to Have Extended All Over Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 1.—The ministry of the interior is convinced that the attacks on Armenians in the Cilicia district were arranged from Constantinople, synchronizing as they did with the mutiny of the troops here for the restoration of absolutism. Field Marshal Ghazi Mokhtar to-day confirmed the truth of rumors that have been in circulation for two days to the effect that the massacre of all foreigners, including the ambassadors at Constantinople was planned for Saturday, April 24.

It was the original plan of Schokef, Paasha, commander of the constitutional army, to enter Constantinople Sunday, the 25th, but when he received a message from the city to the effect that the lower priests, the officerless soldiery and the fanatical mob leaders were planning to kill the foreign residents, possibly with the object of causing the intervention of the powers, he gave orders that his army enter the city Saturday morning.

Bombs in considerable quantities had been prepared for use against the banks, the embassies and other strongly protected buildings.

PATTEN'S PROFITS Delivery Day on Chicago Board of Trade Shows Large Winnings.

CHICAGO, May 1.—This was delivery day on the board of trade and May wheat which was the medium of the recent bull campaign led by James A. Patten became cash wheat.

On May contracts to-day 2,100,000 bushels of wheat were delivered, practically all of it to Hardesty, Patten & Co. Brokers have hazarded a guess that Mr. Patten paid an average of $1.03 for his May wheat. Assuming this figure to be approximately correct, Mr. Patten might have sold the wheat delivered him this morning at $1.12 for delivery in July, which would show a profit of four cents per bushel.

May wheat, however, opened to-day at $1.21-1/2 to $1.24-1/4, and a good demand for actual wheat would enable the bull leader to sell at a much greater profit. While May 1 is commonly known as delivery day, sellers have until the end of the month to turn over the wheat which they have sold.

Formerly only No. 2 red winter wheat could be delivered on future contracts, but under a rule of the board made two years ago, No. 2 spring wheat was made standard. A large quantity of this latter is expected to find its way down from the head of the lakes when navigation opens, thus swelling the amount in the Patten elevators. No. 2 red wheat is selling at $1.41-1/4 to $1.41-1/2, and No. 2 spring at $1.33.

STORM OVER LAKE REGION

May Day Snow Storms and Killing Frosts Are Reported.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—A great storm sweeping from the upper great lakes region over the middle and south Atlantic States, with heavy rains, high winds and snow in spots, figured conspicuously on the weather bureau charts to-day. A May day snowstorm prevailed in the vicinity of the upper lakes and the upper Mississippi Valley States, temperatures dropped rapidly in the central valleys and there is freezing weather all the way from the eastern end of Lake Superior southwestward to New Mexico.

Killing frosts are reported from many sections of the Middle West. "Probably dangerous squalls to the grand banks" was the signal flashed to eastern Maritime provinces and there are storm warnings on the great lakes, all along the Atlantic from Jacksonville to Eastport and on the east Gulf coast from Curruella to Tampa.

The official forecasts to-day predicted a cold wave through the East.

MANY NEW THINGS IN THE OLD WORLD

There are still many pictures that might have been painted by school-boys.

There is no sensational picture and no problem pictures, such as John Collier usually provides, although the shadowed face of Frank Dick's nun praying before a crucifix will probably be the favorite.

Full of beauty is Sargent's decorative panel, could it only be seen in a more appropriate setting. It is surrounded, it is true, by the best pictures in the exhibition, but these rather tend to detract from its majestic simplicity, refinement and coloring. Israel, a small boy, kneeling in the protecting shadow of a seated figure, reads from a golden scroll, which groups of angels in search of Northumbria, one of the pictures which the whole design, is in-terpreted with Hebrew characters. The pictures hanging near are fine landscapes by H. B. Stanton, Alfred East and J. J. Shannon. The best portrait is by Anthony L. Princep. Sargent's other work are a life-like portrait of Earl Wemyss and one of Mrs. Astor.

Sir Edward Poynter shows a portrait of the Earl of Northumbria, one of the pictures which the whole design, is in-terpreted with Hebrew characters. The pictures hanging near are fine landscapes by H. B. Stanton, Alfred East and J. J. Shannon. The best portrait is by Anthony L. Princep. Sargent's other work are a life-like portrait of Earl Wemyss and one of Mrs. Astor.

PEACEFUL MAY DAY

Police Had Little Difficulty in Handling Situation in Paris.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) PARIS, May 1.—May day, which for some years has frightened visitors and residents from the city, promises soon to become the means of attracting all in search of twenty-four hours' peace and quiet. Their security will be enhanced by the extra police and soldiers provided for the occasion. To-day not a single riot occurred. The tramway which it was said would stop, worked as usual. The cab drivers and chauffeurs contracted to parade in the demonstration before the French embassy, shouting: "Down with the Pope" and "Death to priests!" They met a retortary received a deputation from the crowd. He profusely thanked them for the visit, and said he would inform the ambassador of "this affectionate manifestation of the Anti-Clericals' Association of Rome."

AGAINST CIGARETTES

General Sir William Knox Tells of Effect on Soldiers.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) LONDON, May 1.—General Sir William Knox, who has just returned from the front, tells of the effect of the cigarette habit on soldiers. He says that during the South African War thousands of soldiers who were away from their units who could not be found. Hundreds must have been wilfully away. Cured with nerves, they were unable to face the battle even for a day. He adds that he knows of more than one "regrettable incident" as surrenders were euphemistically termed, that were due to loss of nerve on the part of officers, due to cigarette smoking.

He tells how a medical examination of a certain unit resulted in 20 per cent. being rejected for service in India, owing to heart weakness. At a general surprise visit some time later, less than 1 per cent. failed to pass. It was then found that with the view to evading foreign service old stagers had organized smoking competitions to bring on smokers' heart.

NEWS FROM ROME

Anti-Clerical Associationists Are De-lighted Over Result of Election.

(Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.) ROME, May 1.—The number of Anti-Clerical houses erected in the earthquake district is 536—410 at Messina and 126 at Reggio di Calabria. Owing to 150 additional Swiss carpenters having been employed, 138 houses have been erected in the last six days. Mr. Belknap hopes in the future to maintain a daily average of twenty-seven houses until 3,000 are completed by July 1. Meanwhile several of the houses are occupied but for the lack of water, the supplying of which has been delayed by the authorities.

The Liberal papers are praising the Pope for the beatification of Joan of Arc, the ceremony having revived the season and brought here 50,000 French pilgrims who, it is estimated, spent $2,000,000.

Now that the Clerical candidate for Parliament was defeated last Sunday, the papers are celebrating the overthrow of the priest as Italy's enemy. The new anti-clerical representative of Rome is a prince, a descendant of Pope Boniface VIII. A crowd of anti-clericals paraded the streets Sunday shouting: "Down with the Pope" and "Death to priests!" They met a retortary received a deputation from the crowd. He profusely thanked them for the visit, and said he would inform the ambassador of "this affectionate manifestation of the Anti-Clericals' Association of Rome."
